Anxiety: Teach the Skill of Having a Plan

Not telling your child of anxiety-provoking events in advance. You are denying the child the opportunity to practice coping skills (like tolerating distress, coming up with a plan for success, etc.)